Technical Documentation

Product Launch of ASA Music Player

- This product uses a firebase database that stores at least 50 songs.

- The product will require a subscription with a create an account and a login.

- The codes written for all functions of the product are HTML, CSS, and JavaScript.

- Repl.it was used to store and share code with the ASA team.

- Notepad html files were used for testing the website.

- The final results of the webpage was stored and updated in the github repositories.

- This product requires internet access. The operating systems the ASA player can be operated on are Mac OS, Windows, and Google Chrome.

- The API is designed to format large, medium, and small sized screens.

The Date of the demo is Monday, November 16, 2020.